The Waithaka Library in Dagoretti is open and hosts important activities for the local community during the Covid-19 pandemic

Since the national closure of learning institutions in Kenya, due to the Covid-19 pandemic, the Waithaka Library has embarked on creative programs that allow small groups living in local community to carry out important activities needed by young people and youths. These activities include learning and development workshops, music concerts (live but also via radio and posted on YouTube) and important job and work-related activities such that members can financially support themselves and their families. The Waithaka Library provides an enclosed, clean and safe space for these activities within the guidelines set by the Ministry of Health.
